

Away from it all,
yet not that far away...

1 hour from Regina:

follow Highways 1 & 10

3.5 hours from Saskatoon

follow Highways 16 & 35

or Highways 11, 1 & 10

4 hours from Brandon:

follow Highways 1 and 56

Finding Calling Lakes Centre, once you're in the Qu'Appelle Valley

Arriving from Hwy 10 southwest (e.g. from Regina)

At the bottom of the hill, turn left at the Esso station. Continue on this road through Fort Qu'Appelle, over the bridge and along the lakeshore. Approximately 2 km beyond Fort Qu'Appelle, there will be a green highway sign for Calling Lakes Centre (PCTC). Take the gravel road up the hill immediately after this sign and you're in our parking lot.

Arriving from Hwy 10 northeast (e.g. from Yorkton)

At the bottom of the hill (after the junction for Hwy 35), turn right at the Esso station. Continue on this road through Fort Qu'Appelle, over the bridge and along the lakeshore. Approximately 2 km beyond Fort Qu'Appelle, there will be a green highway sign for Calling Lakes Centre (PCTC). Take the gravel road up the hill immediately after this sign and you're in our parking lot.

Arriving from Hwy 56 (e.g. from Indian Head)

After driving along Katepwa and Mission Lakes, you will reach the intersection of Hwy 35 (landmark: a Husky gas station on your right). Continue straight ahead on Hwy 56, along the golf course. Turn right at the next intersection. This road follows along the golfcourse and the lake. After about 1.5 km, there will be a green highway sign for Calling Lakes Centre (PCTC). Take the gravel road up the hill immediately after this sign and you're in our parking lot.

Arriving from Hwy 35 north (e.g. from Wadena)

Before you reach the bottom of the Qu'Appelle Valley, turn right on Hwy 56 (this road follows along the golf course). At the next intersection, turn right to take the road which follows along the golfcourse and the lake. After about 1.5 km, there will be a green highway sign for Calling Lakes Centre (PCTC). Take the gravel road up the hill immediately after this sign and you're in our parking lot.

If you need further assistance, call 306-332-5691